EASTER SUNDAY SERVICES

DR. W. O. Shepard 'Will Deliver the Sermon at M. E. Church Sunday Morning

SINGING A SPECIAL FEATURE

Saturday Evening a Reception Will be Tendered New Members and Large Number of Probationers

Dr. William O. Shepard, D. D., District Superintendent of the Chicago Northern District of Methodist churches will arrive in Antioch Saturday of this week. In place of holding the usual Quarterly Conference a public reception will be given on that evening to the new members and probationers of the church, forty-three of whom have been received this conference year.

Dr. Shepard will deliver the principle address on "Membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church."

Mr. William Westlake and Rev. A. O. Stixrud will deliver short addresses and Miss Bertha James and Mr. William Christian will render vocal selections.

Refreshments and social period begins at 7:30 o'clock and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Special preparations have been made for both morning and evening services on Easter Sunday. The programs are as follows:

DOG DIGS UP HUMAN LEG

Medical Students are Supposed to Have Buried It, but not Deep Enough

A general stir of excitement was caused on Friday of last week, when it was reported that a dog had been discovered playing with a human foot and leg, apparently that of a woman. The discovery was made in the north end of town, near the residence of Frank Runyard, by his two small daughters. A telephone message was sent to Dr. Beebe and he at once dispatched Marshal Hooper to look into the case. Upon hearing of the matter J. C. James went to the Runyard home and at once expressed it as his opinion that the member had come from a dissecting room. This opinion was based upon the condition of the flesh showing that a preservative had been used, the manner in which the various cords were severed, and in which the bone had been severed at the knee. With this theory to work upon it was an easy matter to cipher the whole story out. It appears that the leg was brought to Antioch from a dissecting room in Chicago, by a student, and after a time buried, however not deep enough to prevent its being unearthed by the dog. A proper disposition was made of the member.

ZION RAISES WHITE FLAG

Both Independents and Volvantes Declare for Peace on Earth Good Will to Men

Upon second thought the members of both the independent and the Volvantes factions at Zion City have decided to hold a quiet, orderly election next Tuesday which will be devoid of strife and friction. This decision has been reached by the leaders of both factions and is heartily endorsed by the rank and file of both parties according to well informed Zion residents.

While the feeling between the two factions remain tense the citizen of Zion have resolved to fight the battle of votes in an orderly legal way. There will be no manifestation of mob spirit on Tuesday, April 18, and violators of the stringent election laws will receive their punishment in the manner provided by law which is deemed to be sufficiently severe.

It is not believed that there will be any voting of "floaters" or others who are not legal residents of Zion City. For those who vote or attempt to vote illegally the statutes provide a fine of $1000, or six months imprisonment in the county jail or both at the discretion of the court. There are few men who wish to take a chance with such a law and the offer of a few paltry dollars in return for a vote with the prospect of such punishment as a result has had the effect of giving some who had planned to vote illegally in Zion "cold feet."

SERVICES OF

T. J. LYNCH

APPRECIATED

Interest in the old Wisconsin Central road has been revived since it passed into the hands of the Soo Co. The track and passenger service has been greatly improved, Antioch receiving the service of the best train on the road. The improvement is not due entirely to the action of the company. Certain employees have contributed largely to its accomplishment, one of them being section foreman T. J. Lynch of the Lake Villa section, who has made a vast improvement in the track through his section. He came to this section in 1894, where he staid five years, when he was sent to Fond du Lac to take charge of improving the yards at that place. Last fall he was returned to this section and last Tuesday he was sent to Kolze to take charge of the section at that place, the change being considered a promotion. If all employees interested themselves in promoting the efficiency and appearance of the road as he does, its appearance and usefulness would be greatly enhanced. It is reported that the company will put in a sidetrack at this place this spring and the people are rejoicing at the prospect.

WOMAN

TAKEN ILL ON TRAIN

Mrs. Nettie Card of Aurora, while on a train on her way to Loon Lake where she was to re-open the store which she conducted last summer, became suddenly ill Tuesday afternoon and had to be removed from the train at Libertyville.

The Conrad & Hart ambulance was summoned from Waukegan, and she was removed to the Jane McAllister Hospital where she was obliged to undergo an operation. Her condition is said to be quite critical. The operation was performed by Drs. Taylor and Foley.

FALL CAUSES DEATH

Woman Tripped on Rug at Head of Stairs and Fell Fracturing Her Skull

ALONE AT TIME OF ACCIDENT

Husband Soon to be Tried for Sub-Treasury Theft of $173,000 which Occurred in 1907

Into the life of George W. Fitzgerald, former assenting teller for the United States subtreasury, and a Lake Forest, now under indictment for the theft of $173,000 from the government, came another tragedy, Sunday.

Mrs. Agnes Fitzgerald, his wife, died early Sunday morning in the home, 1507 Chase avenue. Her skull was fractured. Members of the family say that she fell down the stairs and struck her head against a newel post.

The accident was not reported to the Rogers Park police. Later Detectives Edwin Strum and Levi Wood were informed by a neighbors and started an investigation. The family explained their failure to notify the authorities as a desire to avoid notoriety.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was alone in the house at the time of the fatal accident, according to the family. Her husband was on his way home from his office at the time. He broke down when he arrived and was informed by a doctor that his wife had met with an accident and had little chance of recovery.

The accident took place at about 5 o'clock Saturday evening. Mrs. Fitzgerald's brother, James Ryan, who lives with the family, and her daughter, Julia say they rang the front door bell for admission.

Ryan had gone down into the basement of the house from the outside and called up through a speaking tube. The two say they were standing in the front hallway when they heard Mrs. Fitzgerald fall. "I broke open the door," said Ryan.

"Mrs. Fitzgerald had been working on the second floor of the house and had evidently tripped in going down the back stairway. When I reached the kitchen I found her lying unconscious on the floor at the foot of the stairs, blood streaming from a small wound in her head. I carried her to her bedroom and the daughter summoned Dr. F. D. Hollenbeck, 713 Ashland avenue."

The tragedy in the Fitzgerald home came almost on the eve of what may prove one of the important developments in his case now pending before the United States District court. Next Monday Fitzgerald's attorney will argue a motion to quash the indictment charging the former subtreasury official with robbing the United States of $173,000. Mrs. Fitzgerald has stood faithfully and loyally by her husband in his troubles since 1907, when the subtreasury was robbed. Since that time Fitzgerald's every move has been watched by secret service men of the government. The robbery in connection with which Fitzgerald has twice been arrested occurred Feb. 20, 1907. No trace of the stolen bills, all of them of large denomination, has been found.

PROMINENT RESIDENT IN TOWN OF NEWPORT DIED SUNDAY NOON

Mrs. Francisca Brewer, the wife of Wallace Brewer of Taylor Grove, near Rosecrans, the mother of Charles and Elsie Brewer and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Ames of the village of Rosecrans, died Sunday a little after twelve o'clock after a long and severe illness. The late Mrs. Brewer was of a prominent family of Newport town, a gifted and highly talented woman whose death is the cause of widespread mourning.

The funeral was held at 1:00 o'clock Tuesday from the house and at 1:30 from the church at Rosecrans, with interment at Mount Rest cemetery. She would have been fifty years old Nov. 10. Brothers and sisters surviving are: Clarence, Philo and John of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, Henry of Taylor Grove, Mrs. Harris of Chicago, and Emma of Rosecrans.

COUNTY OPTION DEFEATED

In Test of "Wets" and "Drys" at Springfield Wednesday by Vote of 63 to 85

FINAL VOTE DUE THURSDAY

Pastor Legislator of Chicago Leads Fight to Dodge Chicago Sentiment but Refuses to Tell Why Surprise is Sprung

The local option forces were decisively defeated in the final test of strength in the House Wednesday. By a vote of eighty-five to sixty-three the "wets" downed their opponents and took complete possession of the situation in the lower branch of the Assembly.

By a previous agreement of the leaders of the two factions both the "wet" and "dry" measures were then advanced to third reading, or to the roll call stage, and both were made a special order for Thursday morning immediately after the roll call.

There is a plan on foot to defeat both bills in the House and thus save the administration leaders from being forced to show their hand in the Senate.

It is reported on good authority that the supporters of the county option bill are willing to withdraw their measure entirely and call off the fight if the "wet" leaders will agree not to push their bill further.

It is doubtful whether such an arrangement can be made. The local option leaders admit that they are beaten, but they are still hoping that by some means or other they may be able to bring about the defeat of the "wet" measure after their own bill goes to the waste basket.

The test vote came when the "dry" leaders, after counting noses and finding they were short of the necessary votes to win, thought to save their bill down state by eliminating Cook county from the operation of the proposed law.

Representative George H. Wilson of Quincy, chairman of the temperance committee, sprung the surprise as soon as the "dry" bill was called up on the order of second reading. He at once offered the amendment to eliminate Cook county. It was then that the "wet" leaders went after him and his followers, charging them with inconsistency and sharp practices, and putting in the amendment with the sole hope of saving their down-state bill.

In anticipation of the big fight 3,000 local option enthusiasts from all parts of the state flocked to the statehouse at an early hour. Several hundred were unable to gain access to the hall of representatives, as the galleries were packed and all standing room had been taken.

The galleries had prepared to make a big demonstration and started in with the first speech to rock the ceilings with their cheers and applause for the "dry" speakers. Speaker Adkins, after the galleries had yelled for Wilson and had hissed Lee O'Neill Browne, threatened to clear the hall of all visitors if any further demonstration marked the progress of the debate. Several hundred visitors who had crowded into the hall behind the railing were driven out of the hall and those who could not wedge themselves into the galleries had to remain outside.

After protracted and somewhat sensational debate Representative Thomas Curran of Chicago, chairman of the "wet" committee, offered a motion that the "dry" amendment to eliminate Cook county be laid on the table. And on this motion the local option forces went down to defeat.

The Rev. Frank G. Smith, independent representative from the Nineteenth district, Chicago, who made the main "dry" speech, declared the tendency to center population in the cities made the country people more concerned in what the city does than the city is concerned in what the country does. Should the county option bill be defeated the Chicago minister-legislator predicted the down state people will create sentiment sufficient to elect a prohibition Assembly and a "dry" Governor and pass a state-wide prohibition law in retaliation.

INSANE WOMAN BURNED

Wife of Grass Lake Citizen While Attempting to Set Fire Badly Injured

It is reported that during a fit of insanity Mrs. Barbara Herman of Grass Lake made an attempt to burn the hotel property, known as the Hunters Home at seven o'clock Tuesday evening, and in so doing met with an accident that may cost her life.

Unobserved she had entered the hotel which is at the present time vacant, and pouring a generous quantity of kerosene about, touched a match to it, and watched to see it burn. But in some way her clothing was also ignited and before she succeeded in extinguishing the flames she had received severe burns on the lower part of her body. Closing the door she made her way home where her plight was discovered and a doctor was summoned.

In the meantime the fire had died out probably from want of draught, and very little damage was done to the building, the floor of one room and one door casing being somewhat charred.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Herman was taken to Waukegan where she was adjudged insane and was taken to Elgin for treatment.

HULL HOUSE AFTER SITE

Settlement in Chicago Founded by Jane Addams After Land at Waukegan

Hull House, the most famous settlement in the world, a social center for work among aliens and the poor of Chicago, is seeking to purchase a large tract of land within the vicinity of Waukegan for a summer open air camp and industrial center. It also seeks to make Waukegan its headquarters for the new branch of philanthropic work, and if the deal for the land sought can be put over Waukegan will surely be the choice.

The design appears to be to sever the ties between Hull House and the Gad's Hill settlement, the latter of which is now more than able to take care of itself, and to start a summer work along a new line, with a view to giving the "submerged" tenth not only the free open air life but also the rudiments of some industrial work, some trade, some means of earning a livelihood.

It is probable also that an older class of people would be sent to the new settlement and that the work in all its features would be wider and better suited to the central idea, which is to unlock the doors of different languages and customs in this country for the alien and to teach him the meaning of the "United States of America."

TUBERCULIN

TEST CAN'T

BE FORCED

The following is the text of the anti-tuberculin test bill which passed the House at Springfield Thursday of last week with the strong support and effort of Representative Shurtleff of this district.

Introduced by Mr. Shepherd, January 24, 1911.

Read by title, ordered printed and referred to Committee on Live Stock and Dairying, when appointed.

For an Act to prohibit the establishing and enforcing of the tuberculin test for dairy animals by any city, village, incorporated town, county or other corporate authority in the state of Illinois.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the people of the state of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly: That it shall be unlawful for any city, village, incorporated town, county or other corporate authority in the state of Illinois, by ordinance, rule or regulation other than may be established by the law of this state to demand, fix, establish or require the tuberculin test to be applied to dairy animals as a means or measure of regulating and purifying milk, skimmed milk, cream and dairy products of said animals in any manner whatever, and every such ordinance, rule, by-law or regulation heretofore or hereafter passed, demanded, fixed, established or required by any such city, village, incorporated town, county or other corporate authority other than the state of Illinois is hereby declared to be void and of no effect.

FIRE DESTROYS BUILDING

Fire Routs Out Families at Early Hour in Waukegan Store Building

LOSS PLACED AT $35,000

Wire Mill Firemen are Called Out to Aid City Firemen in Fighting Flames—Water Pressure Low

One of the most stubborn fires in recent years threatened the destruction of an entire block of business houses at an early hour Tuesday morning when flames were discovered in the basement of the J. H. Larson painting and decorating shop at the corner of Genesee and Clayton streets, Waukegan.

The flames apparently started in the boiler room of the shop and the quantities of oils and paints stored in the lower regions of the store caused the fire to spread with great rapidity. For some time, the fire was confined to the basement of the store, but later it broke out through the upper floors and into the flats in the second and third floors.

The fire was discovered by Miss Warner, bookkeeper for the Larson store, who rooms in the building, about three o'clock. She awoke and found the rooms in which she was sleeping filled with smoke and gases from the paint below her. She hastily spread the alarm to the owners of the building, who were then at their home on Seward street.

In the meantime the other flat dwellers in the block were aroused by the smoke filling the rooms and all hastily fled to the sidewalk.

In the rooms directly over the blaze were the homes of Mrs. J. A. Taylor, hair dresser and manicurist, Dr. John A. Turner, Lewis Clark and Guy Schleffler. These flats were badly damaged by smoke and water, and while the flames were at their height the roof of the rear flats fell in.

The smoke was so dense that there were no firemen on the inside at the time the roof fell, and consequently no one was injured. Dr. Turner with offices on the second floor of the Larson building escaped with little beside his medicine case, and a few most valuable instruments. He escaped from the building in his bathrobe, and grabbing a pair of shoes as he rushed through the rooms, he ran into an alley and put them on his feet.

A few hours later he established an office in the rooms over the Pearce drug store, in the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. Margaret Grant, medical missionary. Nearly all the furnishings of his home were destroyed, as were the effects of Mrs. Taylor who occupied also a flat on the second floor.

When the department was first summoned to the scene, it appeared that the fire would be confined to basement.

At 6 o'clock the wire mill fire department was called out, and the added force of men proved a winning feature in the battle against the fire fiend.

About twenty-five employees of the mill responded to the call, they being summoned by the whistle on the mill. The men brought all the hose of the mills with them, and rendered efficient work in aiding the city firemen.

The millinery store next to the paint store, owned by the firm of Stencil and Gheres caught fire at one time, and for a time it appeared as if it would serve as food for the flames. The fire was extinguished, but not before the stock was ruined.

The Herman building and the Judge building, both adjoining the destroyed store were practically uninjured, the halls and walls being smoked to considerable extent. Every flat was occupied in the building with the exception of one.

The water from leads of hose filed the cellar of the Larson building to a depth of several feet most of the time the firemen were fighting the flames in water up to their arm pits. Nothing daunted the men both from the city and the wire mills struck to their task and rendered excellent service.

When a Man Marries

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Author of "The Circular Staircase," "The Man in Lower Ten," etc.

Copyright 1907, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

SYNOPSIS.

James Wilson or Jimmy as he is called by his friends. Jimmy was rotund and looked shorter than he really was. His ambition in life was to be taken seriously, but people steadily refused to do so, his art is considered a huge joke, except to himself. If he asked people to dinner everyone expected a frolic. Jimmy marries Bella Knowles; they live together a year and are divorced. Jimmy's friends arrange to celebrate the first anniversary of his divorce. The party is in full swing when Jimmy receives a telegram from his Aunt Selma, who will arrive in four hours to visit him and his wife. Jimmy gets his funds from Aunt Selma and after he marries she doubles his allowance. He neglects to tell her of his divorce. Jimmy advises some way so that his aunt will not learn that he has no longer a wife. He suggests that Kit play the hostess for one night. He tells Mrs. Wilson pro tem. Aunt Selma arrives and the deception works out as planned. Jimmy's Jap servant is taken ill. Bella, Jimmy's divorced wife, enters the house and asks Kit who is being taken away in the ambulance. Bella insists it is Jim. Kit tells her Jim is well and is in the house. Bella tells Kit it wasn't Jim she wanted to see, but Takahira, the Jap servant. Harbison steps out on the porch and discovers a man taking a card on the door. He demands an explanation. The man points to the word "Smilglop" printed on it. The guests suddenly realize their predicament, the women shed tears, the men console. A good joke. Harbison pleads with Kit to tell him the real situation of things. She finally tells him of Bella's incarceration in the basement. The all important question arises as to who is to prepare the meals and perform the other household duties. Harbison finally solves the matter. He writes out slips containing the various departments of his or her duties. Kit attempts to make an omelet for Aunt Selma, but fails in the attempt and is in a very nervous state when Harbison comes to her rescue and tells her how to make it. After the lifting of the quarantine several letters are found in the mail box undelivered, one is addressed to Henry Llewellyn, Esquire, Chile, which was written by Harbison. He describes minutes of their incarceration, also of his infatuation for Mrs. Wilson. Harbison attempts to patch up one quarrel after another between Kit and Jimmy. Aunt Selma is taken ill with gripe. Betty acts as nurse.

CHAPTER IX. (Continued.)

Betty had been making tea for Aunt Selma, and of course when she heard us up there, she followed, tray and all, and we drank Aunt Selma's tea and had the first really nice time of the day. Bella had come up, too, but she was still standoffish and queer, and she stood leaning against a chimney and staring out over the river. After a little Mr. Harbison put down his cup and went over to her, and they talked quite confidentially for a long time. I thought it had taste in Bella, under the circumstances, after snubbing Dallas and Max, and of course treating Jim like the dirt under her feet, to turn right around and be lovely to Mr. Harbison. It was hard for Jim.

Max came and sat beside me, and Flannigan, who had been sent down for more cups, passed tea, putting the tray on top of the chimney. Jim was sitting grumpily on the roof, with his feet folded under him, playing Canfield in the shadow of the parapet, buying the deck out of one pocket and putting his winnings in the other. He was watching Bella, too, and she knew it, and she strained a point to captivate Mr. Harbison. Any one could see that.

And that was the picture that came out in the next morning's papers, tea-cups, cards and all. For when some one looked up, there were four newspaper photographers on the roof of the next house, and they had the impertinence to thank us!

Flannigan had seen Bella by that time, but as he still didn't understand the situation, things were just the same. But his manner to me puzzled me; whenever he came near me he winked prodigiously, and during all the search he kept one eye on me, and seemed to be amused about something.

When the rest had gone down to dress for dinner, which was being sent in, thank goodness, I still sat on the parapet and watched the darkening river. I felt terribly lonely, all at once, and sad. There wasn't any one any nearer than father, in the West, or mother in Bermuda, who really cared a rap whether I sat on that parapet all night or not, or who would be sorry if I leaped to the dirty bricks of the next dooryard—not that I meant to, of course.

The lights came out across the river, and made purple and yellow streaks on the water, and one of the motor-boats came panting back to the yacht club, coughing and gasping as if it had overdone. Down on the street automobiles were starting and stopping, cabs rolling, doors slamming, all the maddening, delightful bustle of people who are foot-free to dine out, to dance, to go to the theater, to do any of the thousand possibilities of a long February evening. And above them I sat on the roof and cried. Yes, cried.

I was roused by some one coughing just behind me, and I tried to straighten my face before I turned. It was Flannigan, his double row of brass buttons gleaming in the twilight. "Excuse me, miss," he said affably, "but the boy from the hotel has left the dinner on the doorstep and run, the cowardly little devil! What'll I do with it? I went to Mrs. Wilson, but she says it's no concern of hers." Flannigan was evidently bewildered.

"You'd better keep it warm, Flannigan," I replied. "You needn't wait; I'm coming." But he did not go. "If—if you'll excuse me, miss," he said, "don't you think you'd better tell them?"

"Tell them what?" "The whole thing—the joke," he said confidentially, coming closer. "It's been great sport now, hasn't it? But I'm afraid they will get on to it soon, and—some of them might not be agreeable. A pearl necklace is a pearl necklace, miss, and the lady's wild."

"What do you mean?" I gasped. "You don't think—why, Flannigan—?" He merely grinned at me and thrust his hand down in his pocket. When he brought it up he had Bella's bracelet on his palm, glittering in the faint light.

"Where did you get it?" Between relief and the absurdity of the thing, I was almost hysterical. But Flannigan did not give me the bracelet; instead, it struck me his tone was suddenly severe.

"Now look here, miss," he said; "you've played your trick, and you've had your fun. The Lord knows it's only folks like you would play April fool jokes with a fortune! If you're the sensible little woman you look to be, you'll put that pearl collar on the coal in the basement tonight, and let me find it."

"I haven't got the pearl collar," I protested. "I think you are crazy. Where did you get that bracelet?"

He edged away from me, as if he expected me to snatch it from him and run, but he was still trying in an elephantine way to treat the matter as a joke.

"I found it in a drawer in the pantry," he said, "among the dirty linen. And if you're as smart as I think you are, I'll find the pearl collar there in the morning—and nothing said, miss." So there I was, suspected of being responsible for Anne's pearl collar, as if I had not enough to worry me before. Of course I could have called them all together and told them, and made them explain to Flannigan what I had really meant by my delirious speech in the kitchen. But that would have meant telling the whole ridiculous story to Mr. Harbison, and having him think us all mad, and me a fool.

In all that overcrowded house there was only one place where I could be miserable with comfort. So I stayed on the roof, and cried a little and then became angry and walked up and down, and clenched my hands and babbled helplessly. The boats on the river were yellow, horizontal streaks through my tears, and an early searchlight sent its shaft like a tangible thing in the darkness, just over my head. Then, finally, I curled down in a corner with my arms on the parapet, and the lights became more and more prismatic and finally formed themselves into a circle that was Bella's bracelet, and that kept whirling around and around on something flat and not over-clean, that was Flannigan's palm.

CHAPTER X.

On the Stairs.

I was roused by some one walking across the roof, the cracking of tin under feet, and a comfortable and companionable odor of tobacco. I moved a very little, and then I saw that it was a man—the height and erectness told me which man. And just at that instant he saw me.

"Good Lord!" he ejaculated, and throwing his cigar away he came across quickly. "Why, Mrs. Wilson, what in the world are you doing here? I thought—they said—"

"That I was sulking again?" I finished disagreeably. "Perhaps I am. In fact, I'm quite sure of it."

"You are not," he said severely. "You have been asleep in a February night, in the open air, with less clothing on than I wear in the tropics."

I had got up by this time, refusing his help, and because my feet were numb, I sat down on the parapet for a moment. Oh, I knew what I looked like—one of those "Valley-of-the-Nile-After-a-Flood" pictures.

"There is one thing about you that is comforting," I sniffed. "You said precisely the same thing to me at three o'clock this morning. You never startle me by saying anything unexpected."

He took a step toward me, and even in the dusk I could see that he was looking down at me oddly. All my bravado faded away and there was a queerish ringing in my ears.

"I would like to!" he said tensely. "I would like, this minute—I'm a fool, Mrs. Wilson," he finished miserably. "I ought to be drawn and quartered, but when I see you like this I—I get crazy. If you say the word, I'll—I'll go down and—"

He clenched his fist. It was reprehensible, of course; he saw that in an instant, for he shut his teeth over something that sounded very fierce, and strode away from me, to stand looking out over the river, with his hands thrust in his pockets. Of course the thing I should have done was to ignore what he had said altogether, but he was so uncomfortable, so chastened, that, feline, feminine, whatever the instinct is, I could not let him go. I had been so wretched myself.

"What is it you would like to say?" I called over to him. He did not speak. "Would you tell me that I am a silly child for putting?" No reply; he struck a match. "Or would you preach a nice little sermon about people—about women—loving their husbands?"

He grunted savagely under his breath.

"Be quite honest," I pursued relentlessly. "Say that we are a lot of barbarians, say that because my—because Jimmy treats me outrageously—oh, he does; any one can see that—and because I loathe him—and any one can tell that—why don't you say you are shocked to the depths?" I was a little shocked myself by that time, but I couldn't stop, having started.

He came over to me, white-faced and towering, and he had the audacity to grip my arm and stand me on my feet, like a bad child—which I was, I dare say.

"Don't!" he said in a husky, very pained voice. "You are only talking; you don't mean it. It isn't you. You know you care, or else why are you crying up here? And don't do it again, don't do it again—or I will—"

"You will—what?" "Make a fool of myself, as I have now," he finished grimly. And then he stalked away and left me there alone, completely bewildered, to find my way down in the dark.

I groped along, holding to the rail, for the staircase to the roof was very steep, and I went slowly. Half-way down the stairs there was a tiny landing, and I stopped. I could have sworn I heard Mr. Harbison's footsteps far below, growing fainter. I even smiled a little, there in the dark, although I had been rather profoundly shaken. The next instant I knew I had been wrong; some one was on the landing with me. I could hear short, sharp breathing, and then—

I am not sure that I struggled; in fact, I don't believe I did—I was too limp with amazement. The creature, to have lain in wait for me like that! And he was brutally strong; He caught me to him fiercely, and held me there close, and he kissed me—not once or twice, but half a dozen times, long kisses that filled me with hot shame for him, for myself, that I had—liked him. The roughness of his coat brushed my cheek; I loathed him. And then some one came whistling along the hall below, and he pushed me from him and stood listening, breathing in long, gasping breaths.

I ran: When my shaky knees would hold me, I ran. I wanted to hide my hot face, my disgust, my disillusion: I wanted to put my head in mother's lap and cry; I wanted to die, or be ill, so I need never see him again. Perversely enough, I did none of those things. With my face still flaming, with burning eyes and hands that shook, I made a belated evening toilet and went slowly, haughtily, down the stairs. My hands were like ice, but I was consumed with rage. Oh, I would show him—that this was New York, not Iquique; that the roof was not his Andean tableland.

Every one elaborately ignored my absence from dinner. The Dallas Browns, Max and Lollie were at bridge; Jim was alone in the den, walking the floor and biting at an unlighted cigar; Betty had returned to Aunt Selma and was hysterical, they said, and Flannigan was in deep dejection because I had missed my dinner.

Just then the car caught and knocked down the deaf man and, as he picked himself up, he said:

At Dacon Ridge.

Clerk—Four or five of those racing balloons are supposed to pass over here today.

Storekeeper Jason—Yes, that's why I am leaving those barrels of sugar out in the yard uncovered, by heck! If customers find any sand in them we can blame it on the balloons throwing out ballast. I ain't been in the business twenty years not to have my eyes peeled to an opportunity.

Will She Ask Him Again?

She (for the fortieth time)—Will you love me when I'm old, George?

He (goaded to extreme measures)—Do you expect to be as fat as your mother?

FOR PUBLIC CONTROL

VAIL FOR REGULATION AS WELL AS PUBLICITY.

SAYS BOTH HERE TO STAY

Frank Recognition of Public Rights by the President of Western Union and Telephone Companies.

Public regulation of public service corporations has come to stay. It ought to have come and it ought to stay. That is the flat and unequivocal assertion of Theodore N. Vail, president of both the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the Western Union Telegraph company. It came in the form of his annual report to the seventy thousand stockholders of the two great corporations. Although Mr. Vail's advocacy of full publicity in connection with the affairs of such concerns was well understood, nobody in financial circles had anticipated so frank an avowal of full public rights in the shaping of their general conduct. It came consequently as a surprise, not only because of its novelty and squareness, but also on account of the unqualified acquiescence of a board of directors comprising such eminent and conservative financiers as Robert Winslow of Kidder, Peabody & Co., and Henry L. Higginson of Boston, Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Co., Senator W. Murray Crane, George F. Baer, T. Jefferson Coolidge Jr., Norman W. Harris, John I. Waterbury and others.

President Vail's declaration is heralded as the first recognition by those in high corporate authority of the justice of the demand that the public be regarded as virtual partners in all matters that pertain to the common welfare. He goes directly to the point.

"Public control or regulation of public service corporations by permanent commissions," he says, "has come and come to stay. Control, or regulation, to be effective means publicity; it means semi-public discussion and consideration before action; it means everything which is the opposite of and inconsistent with effective competition. Competition—aggressive, effective competition—means strife, industrial warfare; it means contention; it oftentimes means taking advantage of or resorting to any means that the conscience of the contestants or the degree of the enforcement of the laws will permit.

"Aggressive competition means duplication of plant and investment. The ultimate object of such competition is the possession of the field wholly or partially; therefore it means either ultimate combination on such basis and with such prices as will cover past losses, or it means loss of return on investment, and eventual loss of capital. However it results, all costs of aggressive, uncontrolled competition are eventually borne, directly or indirectly, by the public. Competition which is not aggressive, presupposes co-operative action, understandings, agreements, which result in general uniformity or harmony of action, which, in fact, is not competition but is combination, unstable, but for the time effective. When thoroughly understood it will be found that "control" will give more of the benefits and public advantages, which are expected to be obtained through such ownership, and will obtain them without the public burden of either the public officeholder or public debt or operating deficit.

"When through a wise and judicious state control and regulation all the advantages without any of the disadvantages of state ownership are secured, state ownership is doomed."

Unreliable Physiognomy.

I am a profound disbeliever in physiognomy. Features are false witnesses. Stupidity frequently wears a mask of intelligence. I know business men who look like poets and poets who look like business men. Men of genius invariably look like idiots, and if you pick out the man who looks most eminent in a party you are sure to find he is a nobody. I always distrust men who look magnificent. Nature is a slinky creature. She seldom gives a man the double gift of being great and looking great. She took care to lame Byron and deform Pope and disfigure Johnson. But the crowning example of her jealous parsimony is Shakespeare. I have always been disappointed with Shakespeare's face. It does not live up to his poetry. It is dull, heavy and commonplace.—Adventures in London.

Vegetable Fancy Work.

Little Mrs. Bride had almost everything to learn about housekeeping, but she was so enthusiastic in her interest that every one was glad to help her.

"I have some particularly fine asparagus," the marketman told her one day, and he displayed a bunch for her admiration. "Picked not three hours ago," he added.

Mrs. Bride looked at it with unaffected amazement.

"Does it grow like that?" she asked.

"I always supposed the cook branched the ends of it."—Youth's Companion.

"MIKE" S. LINK DEAD

FORMER ILLINOIS LEGISLATOR IS FOUND LIFELESS AT HIS COUNTRY HOME.

HEART DISEASE IS CAUSE

Democrat Who Voted for Lorimer Admitted Receiving $1,000 in Famous Bathroom Conference at a St. Louis Hotel.

Edwardsville, Ill.—Michael Smith Link, former member of the Illinois legislature, who was one of the representatives involved by Charles A. White in his confession in the Lorimer election scandal, was found dead in a bathtub Monday morning at his country home, between Mitchell and Edwardsville. The discovery was made by his wife.

It was at first supposed that he had committed suicide, but an examination of the body showed that he had been stricken with heart disease.

Link had been affected with heart trouble since the strain of his indictment by the Cook county grand jury May 6, 1910. He worried over the disgrace that attended his connection with the "bathroom" jackpot incident at the Southern hotel in St. Louis July 10, 1909.

Mr. and Mrs. Link celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary April 2, and at that time the former lawmaker predicted he would die suddenly.

Mr. Link was born near Gillespie, Ill., April 13, 1858.

Link is the second former member of the Illinois legislature involved in the Lorimer scandal to be overtaken by death. The first was Charles S. Luke of Nashville, whose name was brought into the affair after his death. Link always took the situation seriously.

Link had been the comic figure in the tragedy which was staged with the trial of Representative Lee O'Neil Browne. Link had been seen in St. Louis at the time former Representative Charles A. White, the confessed bribe taker, declares certain men were called there by Representative Robert E. Wilson to get their share of the Forty-sixth general assembly "jackpot." The charge was that Link had received $1,000 for his vote for Lorimer. He was summoned to Chicago and put under a grilling cross-examination by State's Attorney Wayman. He denied that he had received any money and told the same story before the grand jury.

To frighten him an indictment for perjury was voted against him. Link cried loudly that he wished to get home to his wife and went before the grand jury and confessed that he had received the money. When the case of Browne came to trial, however, Link declared on the witness stand that he had never been asked to vote for Lorimer, that no promise of money had been made to him if he would so vote and that it was paid to him after the fight was over without any explanation from Browne.

TOM L. JOHNSON SUCCUMBS

Cleveland, O.—Tom L. Johnson, four times mayor of Cleveland and former congressman from this district, died Monday night in his fifty-seventh year.

He had been near death for five days. Up to a week ago the former mayor had insisted that he would get well and again be a candidate for mayor of Cleveland, but finally he saw his hope was futile and, after bidding old friends and former political associates farewell, he resigned himself to death.

That Mr. Johnson sacrificed his life for his principles is certain. He had been ailing from cirrhosis of the liver for years and was told by the physicians that he must quit active work for awhile and take treatment, but he was in the midst of his fight for three-cent fare and refused to stop. Finally, beaten in his fifth fight for mayor, he yielded to illness and went to New York for treatment, but it was too late.

STEAMER SINKS; 20 DROWN

Coasting Ship Iroquois Founders Off Coal Island, B. C.—Eleven Persons Are Saved.

Victoria, B. C.—Twenty lives were lost when the steamer Iroquois foundered off Coal Island early Monday. Five bodies have been recovered, including those of the fireman, steward, a Chinese cook and two passengers, unidentified. Out of the ship's company of 19 passengers and crew of 12, four passengers and seven of the crew were saved.

The Iroquois was a wooden steamer of 120 tons, built in British Columbia ten years ago and owned and commanded by Captain Sears.

Two Die in Suicide Pact.

Aurora, Ill.—A husband and wife were killed at Malden, Ill., Monday on the Burlington railroad in what appears to have been a suicide pact. They were struck by an east-bound passenger train and instantly killed. The couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore, thirty and thirty-eight years old respectively. They are believed to be residents of Chicago who had become stranded in one of the small towns near Mendota. The couple deliberately stood in the middle of the track and allowed themselves to be hit.

Rheumatism Comes From Bad Kidneys

How to Cure Yourself.

It is no longer necessary to spend good many dollars in doctor's bills. A new treatment can now be obtained which seems to act more like a marvel than a medicine.

Rheumatism means nothing more nor less than that your kidneys do not work properly. When the kidneys are weak the poisons are not taken out of the blood as they should be. This leads to various diseases, such as Rheumatism, terrible Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy and bladder trouble. The new guaranteed treatment is Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills. One day's use of them will prove their remarkable effect. Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills are sold at all drug stores—25 and 50 cents, or we will send them direct from the laboratory of Derby Medicine Co., Eaton Rapids, Mich., prepaid if you wish. If you want to try them first, just tell your druggist to give you a free sample package.

MADE HIS ESCAPE IN TIME

Metaphors of Millionaire Found No Response in the Breast of the Farmer.

The millionaire accepted the farmer's cordial invitation to ride, and with much scrambling gained a seat on top of the hay.

"My good man," said the millionaire, patting him, "this swaying, rolling, sweet-scented divan is a couch upon which I could well slumber and be irresistible to the arms of Morpheus whenever I courted sweet sleep."

The farmer stiffened. "I'll hear no more of your talk; I'm a respectable married man, and I'll ask you where you're going so I can avoid the place." Dreamily the millionaire smiled. "I'm getting back to Mother Nature, who has been outraged and abused by me for years; I am a broken man, and she will forgive me and bring me back to health."

The farmer stopped the team and pulled a three-tined pitchfork from the brace socket—but his passenger was gone.—Success Magazine.

You Never Can Tell.

A certain 'cellist was once snow-bound for three hours at a small railroad station. He unpacked his 'cello and played his dozen fellow-sufferers a request program with the result that one of them took him to Europe for a year. You never can tell as you bear your precious fiddle-case through the streets what magic casement may not open on the foam (of stela), and what fairy hand may not beckon you within to do the one thing needful to opus fifty-nine, or draw a valiant bow in the battle of Schumann quintet.—Robert H. Schaffner, in the Atlantic.

An Ambassador's Nose.

An ambassador to Russia, formerly a leather merchant in this country, discovered certain secret processes regarding a special kind of leather manufactured there. He would have been looked on with suspicion had it been suspected that he could learn anything of these methods. But during his sojourn he got near enough to certain factories to register, through his sense of smell, some impressions with which he was able to work out the formulas when he returned home.—Atlantic Magazine.

REASONED IT OUT And Found a Change in Food Put Him Right.

A man does not count as wasted the time he spends in thinking over his business, but he seems loth to give the same sort of careful attention to himself and to his health. And yet his business would be worth little without good health to care for it. A business man tells how he did himself good by carefully thinking over his physical condition, investigating to find out what was needed, and then changing to the right food.

"For some years I had been bothered a great deal after meals. My food seemed to lay like lead in my stomach, producing heaviness and dullness and sometimes positive pain. Of course this rendered me more or less unfit for business, and I made up my mind that something would have to be done.

"Reflection led me to the conclusion that over-eating, filling the stomach with indigestible food, was responsible for many of the ills that human flesh endures, and that I was punishing myself in that way—that was what was making me so dull, heavy and uncomfortable, and unfit for business after meals. I concluded to try Grape-Nuts food to see what it could do for me.

"I have been using it for some months now, and am glad to say that I do not suffer any longer after meals; my food seems to assimilate easily and perfectly, and to do the work for which it was intended.

"I have regained my normal weight, and find that business is a pleasure once more—can take more interest in it, and my mind is clearer and more alert."

Easter at Mount St. Sepulchre

By Waldon Rawcett

THE United States is the scene of a number of widely varying forms of church observance on Easter morning, ranging all the way from the novel rites in the Moravian churches of Pennsylvania to the fashionable services in the churches on Fifth avenue, New York, attended by the "400" of metropolitan society. There is little doubt, however, that the most impressive and the most picturesque of all Easter services is that which takes place on the joyous spring holiday at Mount St. Sepulchre. The fact that only a very limited number of people have ever witnessed the significant program here carried out and that, indeed, the great majority of the public is unaware even of the unique character of the services at this mecca for worshipers, serves, perhaps, to add interest to the place and the event.

Mount St. Sepulchre is located at Brookland in the District of Columbia and is the seat of the most important church and the most famous monastery reared in the New World by the Franciscan brothers. However, it should be emphasized just here that the casual Easter visitor to this retreat at Easter-tide need not be a Catholic nor yet even an adherent of any church to appreciate the solemnity and marvelous beauty of the services which take up the greater portion of this, the most momentous day on the church calendar.

The most important architectural feature of the church at Mount St. Sepulchre, and one from which the church and monastery takes its name, is the location in the sanctuary of an exact duplicate of the Holy Sepulchre which has been reproduced exactly as it exists in Jerusalem. This in itself would lend interest to the Easter services held in such a setting, but intensifying the meaning of the religious program for all the spectators is the circumstance that the services are an exact duplicate to the smallest detail of the services which are being held under similar auspices and at the corresponding hour at the last resting place of the Savior in Jerusalem. It is as though the congregation at Brookland were suddenly transported to the Holy Land for an hour or a day.

To appreciate the novelty of all that transpires at Easter at Mount St. Sepulchre it is necessary to know something of the history of this institution. The Franciscan brothers have a number of monasteries or houses of the order located in various parts of the United States, but the community in the District of Columbia is in a class by itself in that it is in effect the American "branch office" of the Franciscan friars who are laboring in Palestine. For, of course, the Franciscans are a brotherhood whose work is of world-wide scope and one of the most important branches of this work is found in their function of "keepers of the holy places." For more than seven hundred years the Franciscans have been in possession of almost all of those places in the Holy Land, which are most dear to all adherents of the Christian faith—such places as the spot where Jesus was born in Bethlehem and the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem—and this order of monks has made of it a labor of love to restore and preserve these sacredly historic localities.

A large share of all the funds with which this work is carried on comes from America and most of the Franciscans who are now serving actively as "keepers of the holy places" have been educated for their task in the United States—at this self-same institution at Mount St. Sepulchre. Officially this community is designated the Chapel and College of the Holy Land and the thirty monks who make up the community are known as the Fathers of the Holy Land. Not only is this a college for the education of the young members of the order who are to go as guides and missionaries to the Holy Land, but it is also the headquarters and business office of the Commissariat of the Holy Land. This latter is a legally organized corporation which is authorized by law to receive bequests and donations of all kinds made for the purpose of commemorative and restorative work at the holy places in Palestine. A country-wide organization of laymen known as the "Crusade for the Holy Land" is ever active in the cause and the funds raised by the "Crusaders" or by means of the collection taken once a year in all Catholic churches are sent to Mount St. Sepulchre for transmission to Palestine.

With such an inspiration it is, of course,

INTERIOR OF THE CHURCH AT MOUNT ST. SEPULCHRE
SHOWING THE ALTAR

not at all strange that the Franciscans at Mount St. Sepulchre are enabled to present particularly impressive services at Easter. Moreover a number of the members of the community have resided for years at a time in the Holy Land and are familiar from long participation with every detail of the Easter services as conducted at the tomb of our Lord in Jerusalem. This is the case with the present superior of the community, Rev. Father Bede Oldgeering, who is the celebrant of the solemn high mass which is the principal feature of the Easter program.

It is doubtful if any church in America is embellished with a more lavish floral decoration than that in the Chapel of the Holy Land on Easter morning and equally notable is the special music by the choir of male voices made up of members of the community with one of the brothers acting as organist. The chapel at Mount St. Sepulchre, and which is all too small to accommodate the throngs that come hither on Easter, is in the shape of a five-fold cross, the large cross forming the main body of the church and the small crosses being represented by chapels. This cross, symbolic of the five wounds of our Lord, appears again and again at Mount St. Sepulchre and a representation of it in Venetian mosaic forms the pavement of the church. The central aisle of the large cross has, at the entrance of the church, a portico which supports a gallery, while at the other end is the sanctuary. The whole interior with its rows upon rows of columns and arches and its significant white and yellow decoration, is stately and majestic in the highest degree and affords the best possible background for the Easter decorations.

The whole arrangement of the interior conduces to focus attention upon the sanctuary which is the main point of attraction in the church and especially so on Easter when it becomes the locale of much that transpires. The architect who directed the erection of the duplicate of the Holy Sepulchre spent much time in Jerusalem studying the original and he has produced a marvelously faithful and accurate replica. Two marble stairways, one on either side of the Sepulchre, lead to Mount Calvary, which forms the high altar of the visitor reaches the representation of the place where the Savior was laid. From the ceiling depend memorial lamps and every detail of the tomb in Jerusalem is reproduced, even to the famous silver panel by Raphael representing the Resurrection. Above the Sepulchre, as already explained, is Mount Calvary, the altar being a replica of the one at Jerusalem. While the Sepulchre itself is naturally the climatic point of interest on Easter, services of special character are held in the church throughout the week preceding this, the most significant Sunday of the year.

Of the throngs of Easter visitors to Mount St. Sepulchre, no women and very few men are admitted to the "enclosure" of the monastery—for this institution, being designed as a college as well as a chapel, is built on the old monastic plan with a courtyard laid out as a garden—the traditional cloister in the form of an open gallery measuring 200 feet on each of its four sides, which serves the friars for their walks on rainy days when it is inconvenient to take exercise in the open. However, visitors, though denied a peep at this sheltered retreat, are admitted to the wonderful shrines and subterranean chambers beneath the chapel and which are in large measure responsible for the rapidly growing fame of this institution.

Reached by flights of stone steps from the main chapel are two underground chapels, one being a representation of the Grotto of Nazareth and the other the Grotto of Bethlehem where Jesus was born. The two grottoes are connected by means of an underground passage which duplicates in appearance the Catacombs of Rome and this passage has at its central point a crypt in reproduction of the ancient sepulchral chambers where an altar was erected over the tomb of some famous martyr. From this crypt another underground corridor leads to the subterranean Chapel of Poor Souls which is intended for funeral services. In these underground shrines burn votive lamps that are never extinguished, day or night, from one end of the church. A low door, set between two ornamental panels leads to the outer room of the tomb. In the middle of this, supported by a low pedestal, there is a stone called the Stone of the Angel, the original of which, tradition avers, is a fragment of the very stone on which the Messenger of Heaven rested when he gave the glad tidings on that memorable Easter morn. Naturally this is an object of the most intense interest to the Easter throng.

Through a second door in this facsimile Sepulchre—an opening even lower in height than that above mentioned—of the year to the other. These underground shrines, representative of the spot where Jesus first opened His eyes upon the world and the humble home of the Holy Family in Nazareth, are both, as in the case of the Holy Sepulchre, exact reproductions of the originals in the far-off Holy Land. Indeed, so faithful is the duplication even in little things that we see in its proper place the stone bench upon the counterpart of which in the Holy Land sit the Turkish sentinels who stand guard over the spots so hallowed by Christians.

TWO JUDGES IN COURT.

"A man has been passing judgment on women for centuries. It is high time that a woman be permitted to judge men. And I am perfectly sure that a handsome man could not get away with it at a woman's tribunal, as handsome women are doing every day in courts presided over by men."

That's what Miss Mary Coleman, lawyer and suffragette, remarked when I called on her with the new proposal, backed by a number of women's clubs, that all the officers of the women's rights court, from the magistrate down, be women.

"I don't think an all woman's court would be a good thing."

"I don't think an all man's court is any better."

The ideal court will exist only when justice has gone into partnership. In this court there will be two judges—one a man and one a woman. Each will learn from the other. And they will sit jointly and pass judgment on both men and women."

"I have heard two criticisms of women as judges, especially of their own sex," I remarked. "One person says they would be too sentimental. Another writes essays on woman's inhumanity to women."

"Well, we can't be both things," Miss Coleman replied, briefly. "As a matter of fact, I don't think we're either. I believe that the best justice prevails when head and heart work together, and I think this excellent combination is more often in women than in men."

"Either a man is absolutely inflexible and cold-blooded, or he is wishy-washly emotional. A judge and jury of men rarely fail to be influenced by a handsome, attractive woman. But I am equally positive that fascinating men criminals could wield no such influence over women on the bench."

PUT YOUTH ON HIS GUARD

Evidently Recital of Romances Long Passed Made No Appeal to His Feelings.

"Charles," said a sharp-voiced woman to her husband in a railway carriage, "do you know that you and I once had a romance in a railway carriage?"

"Never heard of it," replied Charles in a subdued tone.

"I thought you hadn't; but don't you remember, it was that pair of slippers I presented to you the Christmas before we were married that led to our union? You remember how nicely they fitted, don't you? Well, Charles, one day when we were going to a picnic you had your feet upon a seat, and when you were not looking I took your measure. But for that pair of slippers I don't believe we'd have ever been married."

A young unmarried man sitting by immediately took down his feet from the seat.—Ides Magazine.

How Sea Birds Drink.

Under the headline, Where Do They Get Water? a writer in the Young Folks' Catholic Weekly says: "When I was a cabin boy I often used to wonder, seeing birds thousands of miles out to sea, what they did for fresh water when they were thirsty. One day a squall answered that question for me. It was a hot and glittering day in the tropics, and in the clear sky overhead a black rain cloud appeared all of a sudden. Then out of empty space over a hundred sea birds came darting from every direction. They got under the rain cloud, and waited there for about ten minutes, circling round and round, and when the rain began to fall they drank their fill. In the tropics, where the great sea birds sail thousands of miles away from shore, they get their drinking water in that way. They smell out a storm a long way off; they travel a hundred miles maybe to get under it, and they swallow enough raindrops to keep them going."—New York Tribune.

Forestalled.

District Attorney J. F. Clarke of New York was talking about the recent kidnapping cases.

"Kidnapers," he said, "are apt to disappear now. They have become too unpopular. Why, a kidnaper is as unpopular as a widower."

"Widows, now, are very attractive, but about a widower there is always something uncanny, something almost clammy—I mean, of course, from the matrimonial point of view."

"I know a widower who is thinking of marrying again. He thought he'd broach the matter delicately the other morning to his little daughter, so he said:

"Ah, my dear, how I did love your mother!"

"But the little girl gave him a suspicious look and snapped:

"Say 'do,' not 'did,' papa."

Absent-Minded Suffragette.

One of the Suffragettes—I've lost me best hatpin, Lizzie.

Another—Where did you leave it last?

The First—Oh, I remember now! I left it sticking in that policeman's—London Opinion.

Easter Betrothals in Hungary

During the first centuries of the Christian church, Easter was celebrated on the same day of the Jewish Passover, because Christ rose from the dead on that day. In the early days of the church Easter was the favorite time for performing miracle plays; priests became actors, and the churches, theaters for the time being. One of the most popular of the mystery plays is based upon the cowardice of Pilate in condemning Jesus.

"Three days after the death of Christ," runs the old legend, "the pious women of Jerusalem came in a crowd to the palace of the great ruler and hurled bitter reproaches at him for his cowardice. Pilate retired to the innermost part of the palace to escape their reproaches. Still the voices of the women reached him, crying, 'Coward!' At last Pilate became so infuriated at their cries that he ordered the pretorians to drive them out by throwing water on them. This seemed effective, for the mob dispersed and quiet was restored. But to the horror and consternation of Pilate, as he passed from his palace and entered the streets of Jerusalem, the cry of 'Coward' filled the air as if from a thousand tongues.

"Nature herself takes up the curse, and a sudden shower breaks, in which every drop of rain calls the wretched man 'Coward!' The ocean, the sea and the rivers take part in the great demonstration, and the word coward wrung from the heart of nature herself ceases not to ring in Pilate's ear until death frees him from the curse."

From the legend springs a curious custom practiced in Hungary on Easter Monday. At dawn the men of the village wait for the maidens of their choice to appear; as each sees the maiden of his heart he runs after her, and drags her, shrieking and protesting, to the nearest fountain or well, where he proceeds to drench her liberally with water. Thoroughly drenched, the maiden is supposed to pay for the courtesy with a kiss. Often she breaks away from her tormentor, and there is a hot and merry chase until she is captured. Of course, she is soon caught, and is usually a willing victim, for this is one of the Magyar betrothal customs, and an early marriage follows the rite.

The Lord does not expect you to cast bread upon the waters unless you have sufficient to satisfy your hunger until its return.

A Duluth clergyman says modern man is an improvement upon Adam. Old Adam must have been a monkey, sure enough!

You would hardly expect a deaf mute to be the happiest person on earth, but you never wasted any time yet listening to one telling about his troubles.

When your wife comes home and tells you what a dream of a gown she saw for only 300 simoleums, just remind her that dreams never come true.

Telling the truth is a good trait, but the cheerful liar has more friends than the person who goes out of his way unnecessarily to tell truths that leave a sting.

A certain amount of pleasure is necessary for the relaxation of mind and body, but a certain amount of work is just as necessary for the appreciation of pleasure.

Lots of men will open a $50 pot on a pair of jacks and kick up an awful rumpus the next morning if their wives want to open a $1 bank account for the baby.

When they get to making paper out of corn, as is now proposed, a man can make eye-openers out of his morning paper and get about three sheets to the wind before breakfast.

It may be a good thing to pray for things you want, but your faith will be more likely to be rewarded if you follow up your prayer by getting out and hustling for what you want.

THIS WAITER WAS SATISFIED

Old Negro Receives One Dollar for Every Cent He Collected From Wealthy Man.

"The shrewd waiter will accept a tip, no matter how small it is, and pretend that he is satisfied," said a hotel manager yesterday. "When I hear of persons giving extraordinarily small tips it reminds me of an old negro waiter we used to have at Palm Beach a few years ago. His name was Winfield Scott.

"A wealthy but eccentric New Yorker arrived at the hotel early in the season, and Scott took charge of his table. He took his three meals at the same hours each day. At the end of the first he solemnly handed the waiter one cent. Scott was wise, so he bowed and showed his teeth and said: 'Thank yuh, suh.' The next meal the same thing happened, and so on to the end of three months, when the visitor was about to leave. Scott waited on him with the greatest punctiliousness at every meal and never hinted that the tip he got was not perfectly satisfactory.

"After he had finished his last meal the visitor said to the waiter: 'Scott, how long have I been here?'

"'Jes' 90 days, suh,' was the answer. 'I have given you something after every meal, haven't I?'

"'Yes, suh.'

"'How much does it amount to?'

"Scott told him. 'Have you got all those pennies?' the visitor asked.

"Scott said he had, and the visitor told him to bring them. Scott returned with a bag of pennies and handed them over.

"'I'll take them,' said the man. 'Now this is yours,' and he handed over to the waiter $90."

Chauffeur as Critic.

"Dramatic critics could take a lesson from taxicab drivers in the art of damning a play," said a western man. "In addition to their capability they have a peculiar opportunity for exercising their talent. The other night I told a chauffeur who had driven us to a certain theater that he might call for us and take us home.

"'Very well,' said he. 'About what time? At the end of the second act?'

"'Why at the end of the second act? I asked.

"'I guess the rest of the play is no good,' said he. 'Anyhow, a good part of the audience goes home then.'

—New York Sun.

Delicately Expressed.

"It is not always necessary to make a direct accusation," said the lawyer who was asking damages because insinuations had been made against his client's good name. "You may have heard of the woman who called to the servant girl, 'Mary, Mary, come here and take the parrot downstairs—the master has dropped his collar-stud.'

—Tit-Bits.

To Brighten Old Gilt.

Old gilt, such as the gilded frames of chairs or old picture frames and mirrors, if they do not require regilding entirely, may be brightened by using an excellent mixture of three ounces of white of egg and a ounce of chloride of potash or soda. This should be painted over the surface with a feather or a water-color paint brush.

Eccentric Work Basket.

There are workbags made of turtles. Could anything be odder? And yet they are not unattractive, queer as they sound. The shell of the turtle is lined with some gay silk, and the tail is pulled over and inserted in the mouth, then used as a handle. They make nice sewing baskets, and will undoubtedly appeal to the lovers of the eccentric.

Strange.

Mr. Marrynew (a little crossly)—This soup, Agnes, doesn't seem to taste much like turtle. Mrs. Marrynew—I don't see why, John, I let the turtle swim around in the kettle until the water was nearly hot enough to scald the poor little thing!—Puck.

Quartz Mills in Alaska.

Alaska has produced more than 200 million dollars in gold since 1868. So far only placer gold has been mined, except at Treadwell; but new quartz mining has assumed first importance, and quartz mills are going into Alaska in great numbers. For more than a decade the trail to the interior was lined with weary men carrying their packs and stumbling along over rocky ledges now found to contain more gold than the distant placers. As the great quartz mines in the Sierra Nevada succeeded the placer camps of California, so the quartz mines of Valdez are succeeding the famous placers of the interior. There is no healthier, happier nor more promising prospect for a young man of energy than the quartz ledges of Alaska.

Cause of the Servant Problem?

In the congested quarters on the East side of Manhattan island there are 100,000 people to the acre, mostly foreigners. The women and children work at making garments, neckties, ruching, lace and artificial flowers. They work by the piece and their hours are not limited. Six cents are paid for the finishing of a dozen trousers and 40 cents for the manufacture of 100 artificial flowers. Yet many of these women who work 12 hours a day to earn $3 a week could obtain twice that sum, and not work so hard, as cooks and housemaids; and in New York city, as in every city in America, there is a demand for competent domestic servants at fair wages.

Hard to Live Up To.

An example of greatness thrust upon one is an eleven-year-old boy living in Hamilton avenue, Yonkers. His name is George Washington. He was born on Christmas day and christened on Easter. The lad sings in the choir of St. Andrew's Memorial church.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

At the Garrett &amp; Ames blacksmith shop there has been forged and turned out a machine, of the kind, which in the Isle of Man, is called a grubber. It is similar to a walking plow, and has seven heavily forged teeth of the same shape as those used on a cultivator. It is so constructed that by means of a series of set screws it can be raised or lowered at will and can therefore be made to penetrate the ground at any desired depth. This machine is attracting considerable attention as it is entirely new, nothing of the kind having appeared on the American market heretofore.

Little Willie Again.

"Pa!" came little Willie's voice from the darkness of the nursery. Pa gave a bad imitation of a snore. He was tired and did not wish to be disturbed.

"Pa!" came the little voice again. "What is it, Willie?" replied his father, sleepily.

"Turn in here; I want to ast you sumplin'," said the little voice.

So pa rose up from his downy and, putting on his bath-robe and slippers, marched into the nursery.

"Well, what is it now?" he asked.

"Say, pa," said little Willie, "if you was to feed the cow on soap would she give shaving-cream?"—Harper's Weekly.

Piano Tuner in Slam.

Piano tuners appear to have a good time in Slam. In the recently published Journal of Mme. Jottrand, the wife of the French official in Bangkok, she notes as a most important event "a visit from the gentleman who condescends to tune our piano. The arrival of this important personage, who has just landed from Singapore, is eagerly looked forward to, and so great is the demand for his services that he extorts $10 for tuning an instrument. After leaving here he proceeds to the Siam Malay states, and from thence to Borneo, Sarawak, the Federated Malay states, and then back to Singapore. Not a bad round for a piano tuner!"

Adapted for High Altitude.

It is a familiar fact that living at high altitude puts a strain on the heart, which has more work to do. In this connection, says Knowledge, it is interesting to notice Strohl's recent comparison of ptarmigan from high altitudes and willow grouse from the plains. He found that in ptarmigan, even in the young bird, the right ventricle of the heart is very distinctly stronger than in the willow grouse, a specific adaptation to the difference of habitat.

Genuine Bargains in High Grade Upright Pianos

Lyon &amp; Healy, the world's largest music house, announces its great annual clearing sale of pianos. Here is a chance to get a really fine piano at a big saving.

Among the slightly used instruments are 12 Steinways from $325 up; 6 Websters from $235 up; 9 Krakauers from $250 up; 7 Knabes from $250 up; 3 Chickering from $185 up; 4 Fischers from $175 up; 3 Lyon &amp; Healy's from $265 up; 8 Washburns from $190 up; also other second hand uprights (of reliable makes, in good order) from $75 up, also 10 very fine Baby Grand pianos at about half. New pianos, mahogany, special design, to close, $135 up. Write for particulars. Cash or easy monthly payments. If you are thinking of a piano write today to Lyon &amp; Healy, 25-41 Adams St., Chicago. They ship pianos everywhere on approval.

Fine Big Stallion Coming

Word was received here today that the fine big dark-brown, pure-bred, registered Percheron stallion "Avon," owned by Fowler farm at Sand lake, was to be traveled in this section this year.

It is said of "Avon" that he has the best feet, legs and back of any stallion ever in these parts, not even excepting the stallion sold by his owner some time ago for $4,500 cash.

The service fee will be $15.00 and the horse will be in charge of a high class man. It is the intention of Fowler Farm to confine the traveling of "Avon" to a comparatively small area and thereby give the very best service.

"CEROCALL"

The Chestnut standard-bred stallion "CEROCALL" 46099 by Egotist 5018, dam Miss Nutcall by War Call 7982, will make the season of 1911 until the 15th of June at my barn in Antioch. $20 to insure.

HARVESTER MAN TELLS OF AN ALLEGED LORIMER FUND

Clarence S. Funk Testifies Before Investigating Committee at Springfield That Edward Hines Solicited a Contribution of $10,000 to Aid in the Election of United States Senator from Illinois.

HOW HINES WENT ABOUT TO COLLECT $100,000 SPENT IN ELECTING LORIMER.

(From the testimony of Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester Company.)

He (Hines) said that I was just the fellow he had been looking for or trying to see and he said he wanted to talk to me a minute. We went away and sat down on one of the leather couches at the side of the room. Without any preliminaries and quite as a matter of course, he said: "Well, we put Lorimer over down there at Springfield, but it cost us about $100,000, to do it." He went on to say that they had had to act quickly when the time came, that they had no chance to consult anybody beforehand, and I think his words were these: "We had to act quickly when the time came, so we put up the money."

He (Hines) said: "Now we are seeing some of our friends so as to get it fixed up." He gave me to understand that whereas they had advanced the money, they were now seeing several people who they thought would be interested, to get them to reimburse them. We had some discussion back and forth and finally I asked him how much he (Hines) was getting from his different friends and he said: "Well, of course, we can only go to a few big people, and if about ten of us will put up $10,000 apiece that will clean it up."

Edward Tilden, connected with the stockyards at Chicago, is the man to whom I was told to send the money.

Springfield.—Edward Hines was named as the man who "put up" the $100,000 to elect William Lorimer United States senator. Edward Tilden was named as "treasurer" of the fund. The startling information came out at the session of the Helm senate investigating committee.

Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company in Chicago, gave the names, explaining that he had been approached by Mr. Hines to make a $10,000 contribution to the fund.

Mr. Hines, close personal friend of Senator Lorimer and one of his most active lobbyists during the investigation which ended in his exoneration at Washington, represented the lumber interests of the country. Mr. Tilden is credited with speaking for the meat packers.

Mr. Funk briefly explained that Mr. Hines had told him that $100,000 was rushed to Springfield to procure Lorimer's election and that the International Harvester company was expected to be one of the ten "big people" to make up the fund. Though the contribution was not made, Mr. Funk said he was requested to "think it over" and send the cash to Mr. Tilden.

The witness did not know Mr. Tilden, and it was with apparent reluctance and only after being summarily ordered to do so by Chairman Helm that he gave the name to the committee.

Kohlsaat's Testimony.

Herman H. Kohlsaat, publisher of the Chicago Record-Herald, had first identified a telegram sent by him to Chairman Helm, saying his informant called at the Record-Herald office and was willing to appear before the committee.

"When I arrived at my office Clarence S. Funk called and told me he would be less than a man if he held me to my confidence," testified Mr. Kohlsaat. "Mr. Funk told me that he talked with Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the company, and told him he thought he ought to release me, whereupon Mr. McCormick said: 'Good! That is exactly what I want. I do not care for the consequences to the International Harvester company!'"

"I met Mr. Funk about thirty days after the confession of White, while on my way to the Chicago club. He did not seek me out at all. Mr. Funk told me the man who came to him told me they had an opportunity to elect Lorimer with a fund of $100,000. They sent it down and Mr. Funk told me they were looking for reimbursement."

Funk's Story of the Case. Mr. Funk when he took the stand said he had been with the International Harvester company nine years. His attention was called to a conversation with Edward Hines shortly after the Lorimer election. The witness said:

"The conversation took place in the Union League club. It was an accidental meeting. He said he had been wanting to see me and we sat in the lounge room."

"Hines said to me without preliminary, 'Well, we put Lorimer over, but it cost us $100,000 to do it.' He said: 'We had to act quickly, so that it became necessary for us to put up the money. Now we are seeing some of our friends to get it fixed up.'"

"He gave me to understand they wanted to be reimbursed and I asked him why he came to us, and he said: 'You are as interested as any one in having the right kind of a man in Washington.'"

"I told him we would have nothing to do with it. He said he could go only to big people and wanted to get $10,000 from each of ten. He left me and told me to think it over."

"Whom did he say they were to send the money to?" asked Attorney Healy.

"Edward Tilden is the man to whom I was told to send the money," said Mr. Funk.

Funk Not Willing Witness.

Mr. Funk is a business man, the active manager of a force of 97,000 men, and he was loath to become connected with the Lorimer scandal in any way. As he had not invited the proposition made to him, and as he had promptly refused it, he had felt justified in remaining silent for almost two years, and was induced to speak only to save his friend, Herman H. Kohlsaat, from punishment for contempt.

Even then Mr. Funk was not an over-friendly witness, and gave the name of Edward Tilden only after much argument and after being ordered to do so by Chairman Helm on vote of the other senators.

Following the examination of Mr. Funk the committee held an executive session, and then adjourned until April 13.

Former Senator Albert J. Hopkins and former State Senator Cyril R. Jandus, who have been subpoenaed, will be notified that they need not appear until that date.

Hines in Denial.

Chicago.—Edward Hines made flat denial of the charge that he had collected or solicited funds to be used in helping to elect William Lorimer to the United States senate.

"I never put up a dollar for any fund; I never collected a dollar for any fund to be used or disbursed for the election of William Lorimer as United States senator. I have nothing whatever to add to the testimony I gave recently in Springfield and I am ready to return here if wanted and make another statement."

Killed in Arkansas Feud.

Little Rock, Ark., April 6.—As a result of a pistol fight in an office here, Ed. Lindsey, deputy constable, is dead and Will Scott, police officer of Argenta, is wounded. The fight followed a feud of years' standing, and more trouble is expected. A number of extra officers have been sworn in. The feud started several years ago, when John Lindsey, father of the dead man, was killed in Argenta, at which time Edward Blackman was lynched.

HIS ONLY HOPE.

60 MINERS TRAPPED

MEET DEATH IN COAL COLLIERY FIRE NEAR THROOP, PA.

SMOKE SHUTS OFF ESCAPE

Flames Break Out in Engine House at Foot of Shaft and Men and Boys Are Imprisoned in Tunnel Where They Suffocate.

Scranton, Pa.—Caught like rats in a trap, without a moment's warning, 60 men and boys perished Friday in a coal mine fire in the Pancoast colliery at Throop, three miles from this city. Owing to the presence of volumes of smoke and deadly gases, the rescuers were unable to recover the bodies until several hours after the fire broke out.

The cause of the disaster was a fire which broke out in the engine house at the foot of the shaft. An alarm was sent to the miners and all the men except those working in the Dunmore vein were able to make their way out. Heavy, thick smoke arising from the burning engine house was swept back into the workings toward the tunnel where 60 men were at work. They were caught behind this heavy wall of smoke with no means of escape left them.

As the smoke drifted further back into the lower vein the men are believed to have been driven back to the end of the workings. Several times rescue parties made efforts to penetrate the wall of smoke close to the engine house after the flames had been extinguished, but the task was too dangerous and difficult. The men who tried to make progress through the smoke came back choking and with their eyes running water. The carpenter force was hurriedly called out and they with a small army of volunteers started to work sending all the available air into the lower veins.

When the news of the disaster had spread to the city and surrounding boroughs the crowd at the mouth of the shaft multiplied many times and the Throop police found it necessary to swear in special deputies to aid them in keeping order. When a move was made to clear a passage from the shaft to the mine office there was considerable difficulty, on account of the determination of the crowd to stay close to the shaft.

Rescue parties from the government relief station at Wilkesbarre and from the Lackawanna and Lehigh Valley Coal companies were dispatched to the Pancoast mine and only for the use of perfected safety devices by these parties, the fate of the entombed men would not yet be known.

COOPER IS GIVEN THE VOTE

Insurgent Republicans Support Wisconsin Man.—Receives Sixteen Votes for Speaker.

Washington.—The vote for speaker of the house indicates that the insurgent Republicans will maintain a separate working organization during the special session of congress.

Although not nominated for speaker Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin received 16 votes for that office and Mr. Norris of Nebraska was given one vote, which was cast by Mr. Cooper. Messrs. Norris and Madison of Kansas voted with the regular Republicans for Mr. Mann.

Those who voted for Mr. Cooper were: Akin, New York; Anderson, Davis, Lindbergh, Minnesota; Davidson, Kopp, Nelson, Morse and Lenroot, Wisconsin; La Follette, Warburton, Warrington and Kent, California; Murdock and Jackson, Kansas; Lafayette, Oregon. French, Idaho.

Fears "Black Hand;" Suicides. Peoria, Ill.—Fearing death by the "Black Hand," Joe Myers, a Russian Jew, and a cooper machinist, threw himself in front of an electric car and died within two hours Friday. As he plunged forward he said: "Death now. I fear the 'Black Hand.'" Gives $500,000 to Japan. Tokyo.—K. Okura Friday gave $500,000 to be devoted with a similar amount donated some time ago by the emperor for the relief of the poor and sick of Japan.

PRIEST AGAIN FAINTS

VITOZZI CAUSES SENSATION IN CAMORRISTS' TRIAL.

Judge Suspends Court—Orders Prisoner to Break His Fast With Yolks of Six Eggs.

Viterbo.—The trial of the 36 Camorristi accused of the murder of Gennaro Cuocolo and his wife came to a dramatic climax when Ciro Vitozzi, the accused priest, fainted during the bitter examination which he was forced to face.

The hearing was suspended when Vitozzi, weakened by a self-imposed fast of 48 hours, which affected him mentally as well as physically, fell to the floor in a faint. He had just denounced the judiciary for his alleged persecution in prison and, as if to excite sympathy, cried out that he had not tasted food for two days. This statement had a contrary effect on President Bianchi, who suspended the sitting immediately and sternly ordered that Vitozzi break his fast with the yolks of six eggs.

Vitozzi, shortly before his collapse, said that a lock of his mother's hair which he had kept with him in his cell had been taken away by the magistrates, who said it belonged to a woman companion of the priest's. He invoked the soul of his mother to support his statement.

During the fit of weeping with which he was directly seized he collapsed and was carried from the courtroom by his physician and the carabinieri.

Another incident that may have a strong influence on the ultimate decision of the jury was the petition of a large number of Neapolitan citizens that they be allowed to be heard as witnesses at the trial. Their petition presented to President Bianchi declared that they had paid blackmail to the Camorra for several years.

"If the prisoners are acquitted," the petition stated, "scores of Neapolitans will have to quit the country to save their lives and property."

WOMAN AT HEAD OF REBELS

Band of Several Hundred Is Led by Daughter of General Canuto Neri.

Mexico City.—According to the El Heraldo the daughter of Gen. Canuto Neri of Guerrero, once a rebel himself, is at the head of a band of several hundred insurgents.

"La Neri" organized her force of insurgents in Guerrero, her native state, but during the first days of this week she and her followers rode across the boundary into the state of Morelos. The war loving young woman has not yet engaged in battle, but has contented herself with riding from ranch to ranch and enlisting recruits. In this she is said to have been remarkably successful.

Ignorant of the character of the measures the government may be taking to effect an agreement of peace with the rebels, unofficial Mexico was inclined to be a bit more pessimistic regarding the immediate future.

ALL CREEDS HONOR GIBBONS

Contributions Pouring In for $250,000 Memorial to American Cardinal at Washington.

Baltimore, Md.—Persons from all sections of this country and of all creeds are contributing to the Cardinal Gibbons Memorial hall fund with which will be erected at the Catholic university, Washington, a building to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the cardinal's ordination to the priesthood and the twenty-fifth anniversary of the bestowal upon him of the red hat. The estimated cost will be about $250,000.

Prison Term for Perjury.

Columbus, O.—Meyer J. Daniels, former wealthy loan agent, was sentenced to 21 months in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., Saturday, by Judge Sater in the United States court on a charge of perjury growing out of bankruptcy proceedings.

New Haven Has $200,000 Fire. New Haven, Conn.—Five buildings covering a block on the lower side of the city and adjacent to the manufacturing district, were fireswept Saturday. The total loss is $200,000.

TRAIN LOAD AFTER TRAIN LOAD OF SETTLERS

ARE GOING TO CENTRAL CANADA.

The question of reciprocal trade relations between the United States and Canada has provoked considerable discussion and interest. Whatever else the discussion may have done, it has brought out the fact that on the Canadian side of the line the agricultural situation is one that forces attention, and it has also brought forth the fact which it is well to face, that on the American side of the border, there is a vastly increasing population to be fed with a somewhat decreasing proportion of food products. This article is intended to point out to those who may wish to become of those who can raise wheat, oats, barley, flax, cattle and hogs at the least cost that the opportunities in Central Canada are what they are seeking. During the past year the official figures show that upwards of 130,000 Americans located in Canada, and the greatest majority of these have settled on farms, and when the time comes, which it will within a few years, they will be ready to help serve their parent country with the food stuffs that its increasing population will require. The immigration for the spring has now set in in great earnest, and train load after train load of a splendid class of settlers leave weekly from Kansas City, Omaha, Chicago, Detroit, St. Paul and other points. Most of these are destined through to points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The reports that come from the different farming districts there are that the spring is opening up well, and the prospects for a splendid crop this year are very good. In some districts good homesteads are yet available. The price of all farm lands has naturally had an increase, but it is still away below its earning capacity. The immigration branch of the Dominion Government has just published its 1911 illustrated pamphlet, which may be secured on application to the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or any of the agents of the Dominion Government, whose advertisement may appear elsewhere in this paper.

Grouch Still With Him.

When Brown died he left an old friend living, by the name of Jones, who always had a grouch. After Brown had been in heaven some time, he met Jones just coming through the gate, and as the newcomer did not look as happy and contented as he should, Brown asked him what was the matter. "Well," Jones said, "I got my feet wet coming across the river Styx and caught a nasty cold, broke my left wing and have to carry it into a sling, and my halo don't fit worth a darn."

Before Allowing an Operation

Please Read These Two Letters.

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before. Then after all that suffering Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored her health.

HERE IS HER OWN STATEMENT.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement—I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for several months without much relief, and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. To-day I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and advise every woman who is afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. Orville Rock, R. R. No. 3, Paw Paw, Mich.

"There never was a worse case" Rockport, Ind.—"There never was a worse case of woman's ills than mine, and I cannot begin to tell you what I suffered. For over two years I was not able to do anything. I was in bed for a month and the doctor said nothing but an operation would cure me. My father suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so to please him I took it, and I improved wonderfully, so I am able to travel, ride horseback, take long rides and never feel any ill effects from it. I can only ask other suffering women to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation."—Mrs. Margaret Meredith, R. F. D. No. 3, Rockport, Ind.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

FREE BIG FIRE IN TOKIO

THREE HUNDRED PERSONS ARE KILLED AND 800 INJURED
IN BLAZE.

FIVE THOUSAND HOUSES BURN

Notorious District Where Girls Are Sold Into Slavery Is Wiped Out—
Soldiers Called Out to Aid Police to Guard Scene.

Tokio.—The notorious Yoshiwara district was destroyed by fire Sunday, 300 persons were killed, 800 injured, 5,000 houses were destroyed and 6,000 females were made homeless.

A strong wind fanned the flames, and to add to the indescribable horror of the conflagration which seemed that no human agency could stay, the water supply became exhausted a few hours after the fire broke out.

The firemen battled against fearful odds, but seemed to make little or no headway against the flames. Regiments of soldiers were called out to aid the police in guarding the terrible scene of disaster. Relatives, friends and the morbidly curious fought to get past the fire lines until the soldiers were forced to fix bayonets to drive them back.

The buildings in the Yoshiwara district are not high, but many of the girls jumped from a height of three stories and lost their lives. The fire, fanned as it was by a high wind, swept the district with almost incredible rapidity. It jumped from one flimsy structure to another in a manner such as to remind one of the flashing progress of electricity.

The Yoshiwara district, which is inclosed by a wall, is famous as the home of the Geisha girl. It is known to every tourist of the Orient. It is here that young Japanese girls are sold into slavery by their parents.

LINER IRENE IS FLOATED

Steamer Is Towed to New York by
Tugs—Not Believed She Is Badly Damaged.

New York.—The Prinzess Irene was worked clear Sunday afternoon of the sands of Fire Island and seven hours later anchored off Sandy Hook lightship to await daylight before coming to the North German Lloyd Steamship company's piers at Hoboken.

A heavy sea, an unusually high tide, supplemented by intelligent concerted effort upon the part of the steamship officers and wrecking tugmen accomplished a task that seemed almost a miracle.

The steamship did not come to Sandy Hook under her own steam, but was towed by wrecking tugs. A twisted or warped rudder post, so far as can be ascertained is the only damage done to the ship. The Prinzess Irene will go to Newport News, Va., where she will go in dry dock for a thorough inspection.

120 MINERS DIE IN BLAST

Georgia Convict Laborers Are Caught
In Explosion—But Ten Bodies Recovered.

Sanner, Ala.—An official statement given out here Sunday says that 120 men were killed by Saturday's explosion in the Banner coal mines.

They include two white and three negro free men and 111 negro and 12 white convicts. But ten bodies have been recovered. Relief work was interfered with by many rescuers being overcome by black damp and having to be dragged out.

The Banner mines are in the western part of Jefferson county. They are owned by the Pratt Consolidated Coal company and are worked by convicts, hired from the various counties through the state.

The explosion came at 6:40 a. m. It is believed powder set fire to dust. As the fan was destroyed, black damp quickly spread over the mine.

ROOSEVELT NOT A CANDIDATE

Colonel Declares He Is Not an Aspirant for Presidency or Any Other Office.

Spokane, Wash.—Theodore Roosevelt made his first public declaration regarding his possible candidacy for the presidency at a luncheon given in his honor Saturday by the Commercial club.

"I am not an aspirant for anything because I have had everything," he said. "No other man alive has had—I don't know whether I ought to use this simile in the presence of the chaplain, but I am going to take chances—no other man alive has had such a good run for his money."

The colonel declared he was making his western tour for no other purpose than to thank the people who elected him to the presidency.

ELECT MARTIN LEADER

VIRGINIA SENATOR DEFEATS
SHIVELY OF INDIANA.

As Chairman of Democratic Caucus He Will Name Steering Body to Fill Committee Vacancies.

Washington.—Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia, the "progressive" candidate, was elected minority leader of the senate by a vote of 21 to 16 over Senator Shively of Indiana, the radical candidate.

As chairman of the Democratic caucus and leader of the minority Senator Martin will name a steering committee which will fill committee vacancies, assign new members to places and report its action to a future caucus for approval or dissent.

Only the most definite and reassuring pledges of fair treatment for the new senators, an acknowledgment of their representative character as members of their party, their right to assignment to important committees and to be consulted in the management of party affairs in the upper house, prevented the caucus from ending in bad blood.

Martin was chosen after a ballot was cast, receiving 21 votes and Shively of Indiana 16, with three senators absent. This was the first time within the past 16 years at least that a ballot was required to determine the chairmanship of the caucus and Senator Bacon expressed the hope it would be the last. Martin was nominated by Clarke of Arkansas and Shively by John W. Kern. Among the 16 men, all classed as progressive Democrats who voted for Shively as against Martin, was Senator O'Gorman.

BIG FAILURE IS HALTED

Creditors Take Hold of G. W. Jackson
(Inc.)—Debts Put at $1,000,000.

Chicago.—Creditors of George W. Jackson (Inc.) have swooped down upon that contracting concern, the largest of its kind in the west, and will attempt to take control of it and head off bankruptcy proceedings.

The liabilities of the firm are estimated at more than $1,000,000, but friends of Mr. Jackson asserted that the concern was solvent and that the assets were ample, provided contracts under way could be pushed to completion.

Milton J. Foreman of Foreman, Levin & Robertson, counsel for the creditors' committee, said there was not the slightest doubt that every creditor would be paid in full, if the ready cash could be raised at once and the firm kept going.

"The company has been expanding so rapidly," Mr. Foreman said, "that it has used up its available capital for equipment and cannot pay labor and other debts necessary to carry on its business. If the company is thrown into the hands of a receiver a contract of $1,500,000 for a water aqueduct in New York might be forfeited. The company has on hand other large contracts which must be completed, and the hope of the creditors is to keep the business going without any delay."

Drys Win in Indiana.

Chicago.—By a plurality of 17,132 Carter H. Harrison was elected for the fifth time mayor of Chicago. He won over Charles E. Merriam, his Republican rival.

The complete returns give Harrison 177,923, Merriam 160,791, Rodriguez (Sec.) 22,294; Brubaker, (Pro.), 2,971; Prince, (Sec. Labor), 1,013. Henry Stuckert, Democrat, was elected as city treasurer and Francis D. Connery, Democrat, city clerk.

Indianapolis.—Two county seats in Indiana Tuesday voted against the readmittance of saloons. In a local option election in Franklin, the seat of Clinton county, the "drys" won by a majority of 185, and in Sullivan, the seat of Sullivan county, they won by 59.

ITCHED SO COULD NOT SLEEP

"I suffered from the early part of December until nearly the beginning of March with severe skin eruptions on my face and scalp. At first I treated it as a trivial matter. But after having used castile soap, medicated washrags, cold cream, vanishing cream, etc., I found no relief whatever. After that I diagnosed my case as eczema, because of its dry, scaly appearance. The itching and burning of my scalp became so intense that I thought I should go mad, having not slept regularly for months past, only at intervals, waking up now and then because of the burning and itching of my skin. Having read different testimonials of cures by the Cuticura Remedies, I decided to purchase a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. After using them for a few days I recognized a marked change in my condition. I bought about two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and five cakes of Cuticura Soap in all, and after a few days I was entirely free from the itching and burning. My eczema was entirely cured, all due to using Cuticura Soap and Ointment daily. Hereafter I will never be without a cake of Cuticura Soap on my washstand. I highly recommend the Cuticura Remedies to anyone suffering from similar skin eruptions and hope you will publish my letter so that others may learn of Cuticura Remedies and be cured." Feeble Guardianship.
"I wonder," said the Sweet Young Thing, "why a man is always so frightened when he proposes?"

"That," said the Chronical Bachelor, "is his guardian angel trying to hold him back."—Stray Stories.

Take Garfield Tea to overcome constipation, cleanse system and maintain health.

FREE SAMPLE CURED OLD PERSON'S BOWEL TROUBLE

One of the most remarkable proofs of the unusual laxative merit contained in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is that it is effective not only in people in the prime of life, but at the extremes of ages. As many letters are received from mothers regarding the cures of children, as from men and women of sixty, seventy and eighty years of age. It must be truly a wonderful laxative.

In the cure of constipation and bowel trouble in old people it has no equal. It corrects the constipation, dispels the headache, biliousness, gas, drowsiness after eating, etc. People advancing in years should see to it that their bowels move freely, and if they do not take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You can prolong your life by healthy bowel action. Clogged bowels invite disease. Women about to pass the menstrual period cannot do better than use Syrup Pepsin several times a week until the system has settled to its future condition.

Among the strongest supporters of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are Mr. W. G. Zorn of New Decatur, Ala., and Mr. George S. Spaulding of the National Soldiers' Home, Kansas, both elderly men. The regular size bottles can be bought of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar, but a free sample bottle can be had by sending your address to the doctor.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 201 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Spring Debility

Felt by so many upon the return of warm weather is due to the impure, impoverished, devitalized condition of the blood which causes that tired feeling and loss of appetite as well as the pimples, boils and other eruptions so common at this season. It is cured by the great constitutional remedy which effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than twenty different ingredients. There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good," you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

No Excuse at All.

N. C. Goodwin, the comedian, was condemning a new comedy at a dinner in New York.

"It's climax," he said, "is false and unsatisfactory—as false and unsatisfactory as Rowndar's excuse."

"On Rowndar's return at a very late hour, his wife said reproachfully: 'You used to vow I was the sunshine of your life, but now you stay out night after night.'"

"Well, my dear," said Rowndar, "I don't ask for sunshine after dark."

A BARGAIN IN WISCONSIN LAND.

420 acres, 400,000 feet of hardwood saw timber, 10,000 cords of wood, black loam soil, no stone, surface level, can all be cultivated when timber is removed. All fenced; good house and outbuildings. Neighborhood well settled near school, creamery and good markets, on telephone line and rural delivery. Three miles from town, 15 miles from St. Paul. We grow corn successfully, also dairy cattle. Farmers getting rich. Price only $22.50 per acre. Timber will more than pay for it. (Better unable to look after place. Leathold-Norton Co., 95 E. Fifth St., St. Paul, Minn.)

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those who are afflicted with any of them, and wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised, containing up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only, in French cloth binding. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

MUNYON'S PAW-PAW PILLS

TRADE MARK

A trial package of Munyon's Paw Paw Pills will be sent free to anyone on request. Address Professor Munyon, 534 & Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia, Pa. If you are in need of medical advice, do not fail to write Professor Munyon. Your communication will be treated in strict confidence, and your case will be diagnosed as carefully as though you had a personal interview.

Munyon's Paw Paw Pills are unlike other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not scour, they do not gripe, they do not weaken, but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. In my opinion constipation is responsible for most ailments. There are 26 feet of human bowels, which is really a sewer pipe. When this pipe becomes clogged the whole system becomes poisoned, causing biliousness, indigestion and impure blood, which often produces rheumatism and kidney ailments. No woman who suffers with constipation or any liver ailment can expect to have a clear complexion or enjoy good health. If I had my way I would prohibit the sale of nine-tenths of the cathartics that are now being sold for the reason that they soon destroy the lining of the stomach, setting up serious forms of indigestion, and so paralyze the bowels that they refuse to act unless forced by strong purgatives.

Munyon's Paw Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverish it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no calomel, no dope; they are soothing, healing and stimulating. They school the bowels to act without physic.

Regular size bottle, containing 45 pills, 25 cents. Munyon's, Laboratory, 534 & Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia.

The Farmer's Son's Great Opportunity

Why wait for the old farm to become your inheritance? Begin now to prepare for your future prosperity and independence. A great opportunity awaits you in Western Canada. Where you can secure freehold ownership of land at reasonable prices.

Now's the Time from the abundant crops of wheat, oats and barley, and a steady advance in price, government returns show that the number of settlers in Western Canada from the United States has increased in 1910 than the previous year.

Many farmers have paid for their land out of the proceeds of one crop. Free Homesteads of 160 acres and pre-emption of 80 acres for $3.00 an acre. Fine climate, good schools, excellent railway facilities, low freight rates, wood, water and land easily obtained.

For pamphlet "Last Best West" and particulars as to suitable locations and low settlers' rates, apply to nearest immigration office, (U.S. Cons., or to Canadian Gov't Agent.

REAL ESTATE.

EDMONTON, ALTA. CAN.—I have a large lot of Canadian land in the corner part of Alberta, where irrigation is not necessary and can sell the same for profit. This land is rapidly increasing in value and is a splendid investment. I also have extensive lot of Edmonton city property. This city is progressing more rapidly than any in Western Canada, property is selling freely and values are increasing at a phenomenal rate, hundreds of dollars are being made on investments daily and many really looking for a good place to put your surplus money you cannot equal Edmonton. Across the river from Edmonton lies Strathcona, the University City of Alberta, which city will soon be taken into the city of Edmonton, making Edmonton the largest city in Western Canada. By buying in Strathcona now you will be able to take advantage of the advance price which is sure to come in the annexation of the two cities which are soon to be connected with a bridge. Lots in University Park are selling at $20.00 each on easy terms. Particulars on application. H. F. Blackburn, 205 First Street.
